Does container management sell as-is condition containers?

Container Management, Inc. does not sell As-Is condition containers. Choosing the right size is critical as it impacts both cost and usability. The 20-foot, 40-foot, and 40-foot High Cube containers are the most common sizes for shipping containers that are to be used for export shipment or for storage.

How much does a 20 ft container cost?

These containers can cost $2,000 to $5,000 for a new 20' container or you can get a used one of this size for $1,400 to $3,000. Here's a brief outline of your options: These are 40' containers with an additional foot of clearance for extra large storage or shipping.

Can a CW container be certified for export shipping?

CW containers can be certified for export shipping, meaning they can withstand the rigors of sea travel, and all of the major steamship lines will accept them for transit on their ships. WWT containers cannot be certified for export shipping, but are ideal for storage as they are sealed against wind and water.

How much does it cost to move a container?

On average, moving a container within the United States costs around $2,000-$5,000. For international moves, the price of a shipping container can be from $5,000 to $10,000. If you're moving an empty container over a short distance (under 200 miles), you may pay between $500 and $1000.
