

Latvia s regulations on installing green base stations for communications

Source: <https://www.halkidiki-sarti.eu/Wed-13-Jun-2018-831.html>

Title: Latvia s regulations on installing green base stations for communications

Generated on: 2026-04-23 12:47:01

Copyright (C) 2026 HALKIDIKI BESS. All rights reserved.

The electronic communication network installation in accordance with an accepted technical design is a pre-condition for ensuring requirements in ...

The purpose of the Law is to promote the construction and installation of the high-speed electronic communications network by both constructing a new and using the existing ...

Since 2012, GP Systems has installed over 300 new mobile communication base stations for Latvia's major operators ...

The Installation and Construction Permits from the Electronic Communications Office must be obtained before the installation and construction of the facilities of electronic communications ...

Installation of base stations and radio systems will be carried out only with the agreement of the Department of Architecture and Civil Engineering. For business opportunities or procurement, ...

The new ECL was finally accepted in Latvia in its final reading on 2 June 2022. However, the law did not enter into force until 27 July as it had failed the final phase: presidential proclamation.

The study starts by identifying and interviewing stakeholders from different sectors of operation in the Baltic states and Europe and then provides an overview of some of the ...

According to national regulations, prior to official approval of the operation of mobile communication base stations, including 5G stations, operators shall organise independent ...

Website: <https://www.halkidiki-sarti.eu>

